MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Edward J. O'Malley
Assistant Director, Intelligence Division
Federal Bureau of Investigation

SUBJECT: FBI Briefing for NAS Panel

1. As you know, the National Academy of Sciences has established a nineteen member "blue ribbon" Panel to conduct a year-long study on "National Security Regulations of Technology Transfer and Scientific and Technological Activities of Universities and Professional Societies." The DDCI asked me to sit as the Intelligence Community representative on a liaison group that is working with the Panel. The Panel held its first meeting on 16-17 April, and the next "information gathering" session is scheduled for 27-28 May. Admiral Inman is scheduled to be the guest speaker for the informal evening session on the 27th. I hope to arrange to have three or four briefings provided by the Intelligence Community earlier that day.

2. With your approval, I will urge that the NAS Panel be given a FBI briefing on the counterintelligence aspects of East-West exchanges. I am thinking particularly of the revised version of the briefing presented recently to TTIC/COMEX by on "Soviet Technology Acquisition Efforts through the East/West Exchanges Program." The NAS Panel needs to better understand the hostile threat to the academic community and to the technologies being developed there that have significant national security implications. I foresee that the FBI briefing will take place between a briefing from the TTIC Secretariat on the role of the IC in the S&T visitor review process and a briefing by Chairman COMEX on selected cases of academic-related technology transfers having military significance. All these briefings are to be given at the SECRET level.
